

Human Rights Due Diligence

Policy and Principle

In accordance with the United Nations Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights, the Daigas Group is committed to establishing systems in order to respect the human rights of all people affected by the Group's business activities, and proactively disclose its initiatives in this area. We integrate the human rights due diligence system, established in accordance with the Daigas Group Human Rights Policy, into our business processes and conduct ongoing evaluations.

System for Carrying Out Human Rights Due Diligence

The Human Rights Center in the Human Resources Dept., Compliance Office and Internal Control Planning Team in the General Affairs Dept., and the Sustainability Office in the Corporate Strategy Dept. work together to promote human rights due diligence.

A member of the Human Rights Committee is appointed to each organization to be responsible for formulating plans, monitoring results, and overseeing implementation to prevent human rights violations. In addition, the Board of Directors, which makes decisions on and supervises the important business activities throughout the Daigas Group, supervises matters involving human rights issues. At the Sustainability Council (Management Meeting), which is held three times a year, executives discuss activity plans and activity reports related to sustainability issues, including human rights issues, and submit reports to the Representative Director and President.

In addition, the Group also has the Sustainability Committee, chaired by the Head of Sustainability Promotion (Director and Senior Executive Officer), who supervises the Group's sustainability activities, and consisting of the heads of related organizations. The Sustainability Committee is held three times a year in principle for cross-organizational deliberation, coordination, and supervision of issues and planning, promotion related to human rights due diligence.

System for Carrying Out Human Rights Due Diligence

Human Rights Due Diligence Cycle

We have built a cycle in which human rights risks that may arise from our business activities are investigated and identified, the identified human rights risks are addressed through corrective and remedial measures, education and awareness-raising activities, etc., and the effectiveness of these measures are evaluated and linked to improved initiatives.

Human Rights Due Diligence Cycle

Results of Initiatives in FY2025.3 (Results of Human Rights Due Diligence)

Identification of key human rights risks (process)

By reference to the dual axes of the seriousness of each potential human rights infringement and the likelihood of it occurring, we identify key human rights risks that the Daigas Group needs to consider in the course of its business activities and establish a priority order for addressing them.

In FY2025.3, we continued to conduct checks through the “G-RIMS,” a self-inspection tool, a compliance survey of employees to see how well they understood compliance, and questionnaire surveys targeting major business partners of the Daigas Group. In addition, we undertook efforts to gradually expand the scope of our investigation, including starting to conduct questionnaire surveys targeting major suppliers and conducting on-site audits by adding the confirmation of human rights risks to the existing quality audit framework.

The investigation results showed no serious risks related to human rights.

■ Identification Process

1. Confirm the likelihood of occurrence and seriousness of human rights infringements based on the results of the human rights risk investigation and human rights consultations.

2. Conduct a discussion among internal stakeholders and evaluate each item of human rights risks using the matrix shown in the figure below.

3. Consult with experts to identify the Group's significant human rights risks.

■ Matrix Assessment of Human Rights Risks

Identify important human rights themes (assessment)

Based on the FY2025.3 investigation results and discussions with experts, we identified important human rights themes that the Daigas Group should consider in the course of our business activities. As a result, no human rights violations in FY2025.3 that violated our Ethics code were identified. Meanwhile, our Compliance Desk (internal reporting system) received one consultation related to human rights. Based on the details of the consultation, we implemented measures such as internal training and information dissemination initiatives to promote respect for human rights.

Among the human rights risks that may occur in the course of the Group's business activities, 14 items were identified as significant human rights risks (human rights risks with a relatively high likelihood of occurring). Such risks include forced labor, child labor, and bribery/corruption in the international business, and infringement of the rights of foreign workers or technical interns in the domestic business, in addition to lack of consideration for occupational health and safety, infringement of human rights caused by excessive working hours or unpaid wages, and harassment. We take various measures to prevent and mitigate these risks, under relevant policies and other systems.

In addition, in response to concerns raised during last fiscal year's discussions with external experts regarding compliance with working-hour limits in the construction industry, we confirmed the situation at three relevant Group companies. Furthermore, we undertook efforts to identify and address human rights risks at our overseas subsidiaries by conducting on-site inspections at our investee in the city gas business in India.

In addition, during discussions with experts, recommendations were made regarding the importance of assessing human rights risks by business in the value chain, and continuing to conduct surveys, investigation, and audits in areas identified as those with key human rights risks.

Going forward, we will continue to identify significant risks and review human rights issues through human rights risk assessments and dialogue with experts. We also assess human rights risks in new businesses. For example, we investigate the status of legal compliance concerning labor standards and health and safety as part of due diligence for M&A deals. We thus confirm that serious human rights risks do not exist in companies joining the Group.
